

PRIVACY

Effective from July 18, 2020

Collection of Information

All information collected by Relate. is collected in compliance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act.

When you visit this site, our web server automatically collects a limited amount of standard information essential to the operation and evaluation of the site. This information is neither used to identify individuals who come to the site, nor is it disclosed to other public bodies or individuals. Relate. is not allowed to disclose any personal information without your written permission. However, the small piece of information collected from you and about you is used within the context of providing our services to you. The information we collect is not shared with, sold or rented to others.

The information that is collected identifies the following:

- the page from which you arrived
- the date and time of your page request
- the IP address your computer is using to receive information
- the type and version of your browser
- the name and size of the file you request

Personal Information

The only information we may use to identify you is the information you give voluntarily. For example, if you choose to provide your e-mail to the Relate., we will use that e-mail to respond to your message and to help provide you with the information you have requested. E-mail and written correspondence sent to Relate. are treated alike – your personal information is not used for any purpose other than to respond to you.

This personal information is disclosed only to the authorized person who uses it to process and respond to your request.

While the personal information you send is secure once it reaches the Relate. server, it may not be secure in transit between your computer and ours. For more information on transmission between computers please visit: <https://www.wix.com/about/privacy>

Cookies

When you visit a website it may deposit a piece of data, called a web cookie, with the temporary web browser files on your computer.

The Relate. website uses cookies to collect anonymous statistical information such as browser type, screen size, traffic patterns and pages visited. This information helps us to provide you with better service. We do not store personal information in cookies, nor do we collect personal information from you without your knowledge, as you browse the site.

If you wish, you can change the settings on your web browser to deny cookies, or to warn you when a site is about to deposit cookies on your hard drive. For more information on “cookies”, please visit: <https://www.wix.com/about/privacy>

Security

Relate.'s web server system monitors unauthorized attempts to upload or change information or damage the service we provide. No attempt is made to identify users or their usage patterns except during law enforcement investigations. For more information on security, please visit: <https://www.wix.com/about/privacy>
